WE'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER YOU
SEPTEMBER 23, 1908

If that young life when It was like mine, man better be or something like on oak, after hundred years,
To hold by it later, by, hold, and see:
A lily of a day
It bears for nothing,
Although it fall and die that night,
It was the plant and flower of light,
In small proportions are not beauty less,
And in short measures life may perfect be.

You picked a good day to die
A beach day
Air hot God kissed
My legs bleached white by the Sun in terror of your icy sickness
All these years
WE Endured
EVERY lonely freeze
every storm
we'd be warm again me and you
in the sand
same spot new suits
fresh gossip
Our rituals
you taught me
sure and subtle as The tide's rise
Nothing browned me like you did
Now me here you dead
The sun is not enough.
